Alleged Mexican Conspirator Evades Six Men Who Have Been Guarding His House.

OFFICERS SEARCH RESIDENCE

EL PASO, Tex., July 3.—Pascual Orozco, second only to Huerta in importance, appears to have disappeared. He is not in his house, where six men have been guarding him. The authorities, however, have not yet abandoned hope of recapturing him if he attempts to escape across the border to Mexico.

Orozco was arrested last Sunday with General Huerta on charges of conspiracy to violate the United States neutrality laws. He was placed under a bond of $7,500. Notwithstanding his bond, federal authorities kept his residence under close watch.

Word of his disappearance reached headquarters early today. Officers were rushed to the Orozco residence at 1819 Wyoming street. A thorough search was made, but no trace of the former Mexican general could be found. While not definitely known, it was believed Orozco slipped away between midnight and daylight.

ATTEMPT IS MADE TO ASSASSINATE BANKER MORGAN

Morgan's summer home, where the shooting occurred. As soon as the man had been overpowered after firing and wounding the financier, some of the servants in the Morgan home procured a rope and tied him securely. They took him out on the lawn near the mansion to await the arrival of officers from Glen Cove, for whom they had telephoned. Judge William Luyster and Constable McGill took him in an automobile to the court house at Glen Cove, where the contents of two suit cases that he had brought with him from New York were examined. One of these was found to contain three large stiletts and the other a large bottle of nitroglycerin. There were also two large boxes of cartridges for his revolver.

The prisoner, a tall lanky man of the raw boned type, was extremely reticent at first, but a few words were persuaded to talk, although he would not say much about himself. Although he claimed to be an American citizen, court house officials said he spoke with a marked foreign accent.

Inspiration from Above. When asked by the officials who inspired the plot against Mr. Morgan, he denied that any one had done so. "It came to me from on high," he declared.

The man seemed to lack complete comprehension of what had happened in the Morgan home and of the effects of the shots he had fired. He could not be persuaded for some time that he had wounded Mr. Morgan, insisting that he had not wanted to kill him or even hurt him. When asked why he fired the shots he said he did not know the man.

Told that he had endangered his own life by his act, he became more talkative. Mr. Morgan, the prisoner said he did not mind that, as he was willing to die, as he could not stand the European war any longer.

When Judge Luyster told him that his shots had wounded Mr. Morgan, the prisoner insisted this could not be so. "It did not hurt him," he cried.

Shot Only to Frighten. "It shot to frighten him. I was in luck. I shot at him from him, just to be sure he was frightened. You can do as you wish with me. I did my duty. You do yours," he told Judge Luyster.

The court house officials concluded after the completion of their examination that the man was not rational. He persisted in declining to tell his name.

Among other things the man had with him a group of railroad tickets to points in various parts of the country. He also had $40 in cash.

Mr. Morgan had made arrangements to go to Bar Harbor about September 1, after a visit to the Pacific coast, for which he was expecting to leave on July 8, returning about the end of August.

Holt Makes Statement. The statement prepared by Holt was addressed to "MORGAN & Co., Ltd., the business of the party who had questioned the man about the shooting. Holt stated the communication, "F. Holt, Dallas, Tex., and (I have)." The statement reads: "My motive in coming here was to try to force Mr. Morgan to use his influence with the manufacturers of munitions in the United States and with the millionaires who are financing the war loans to help an embargo put on shipments of munitions to the United States."

"I am very sorry that I had to cause the Morgan family this unpleasantness, but I believe that Mr. Morgan will put his shoulder to the wheel he could accomplish what I have endeavored to do. I am very sorry that I had to cause the Morgan family this unpleasantness, but I believe that Mr. Morgan will put his shoulder to the wheel he could accomplish what I have endeavored to do."

WANTED MORGAN TO END WAR

Prisoner Sure He Could Do It Because of His Great Influence.

GLENCOVE, L. I., July 3.—It is unofficially stated that one bullet took a glancing course after striking Mr. Morgan in the breast and passed through the arm. The other wound was said to be in the hip.

Mr. Morgan apparently did not consider himself seriously wounded. When it was reported that he was shot, the Morgan house was the target of a volley of telephone inquiries from New York.

The first of these calls was answered by Mr. Morgan himself, who mainly told of the shooting and added that he did not think it amounted to very much.

Mr. Morgan's assailant is declared by officials at the court house here, where he was taken, to have said he was of German descent and that he was willing to give up his life at any time to end the war.

It was added that he declared Mr. Morgan was responsible for the war and for an shipment of arms abroad, and that he could stop the conflict if he wished.

Justice of the Peace Luyster questioned the prisoner. "I am a Christian gentleman," was the only reply the man would give when pressed for his name. He declined to say where he came from. As to his reason for shooting Mr. Morgan, however, he was more communicative.

He told the justice that he had no quarrel with Mr. Morgan personally, but felt that it was time for the war to end. It was becoming more and more unbearable, he said, and it was his firm belief that he should go to Mr. Morgan and ask him to end it. This he knew Mr. Morgan could accomplish because of his great influence.

"I wanted to see Mr. Morgan and reason with him," the man said. "I have nothing against him."

The assailant was cut over the eye by the blow from the coal hod and had been bleeding freely. He also was limping as a result of his encounter with the Morgan servant.

MORGAN ACTS FOR ENGLAND

Financial Deal May Be Connected With Attempt on His Life.

NEW YORK, July 3.—When the news of the shooting of Mr. Morgan reached financial circles in New York the question was raised as to whether the financier's activities in connection with the Russian war had anything to do with the motive of the attack upon him.

The House of J. P. Morgan & Co. was the purchasing agent of the British government for munitions and supplies bought in this country.

It was only this morning that the announcement had been made prominently in New York newspapers of details of a plan of a group of bankers, of which Mr. Morgan was one of the leaders, for the flotation in this country of $100,000,000 of the new British war loan and that an agent of Mr. Morgan crossed the ocean on a mission which he himself did not disclose, but it was generally supposed to be the arranging of credits in this country for the powers at war with Germany.

The arrangement under which the Morgan firm was appointed commercial agent of the British government in the United States during the war was widely criticized. On the one hand it was not met with satisfaction among a large number of American contractors for supplies. They complained that in some cases they were rivals of the Morgan firm in special lines of commerce. In England the criticism of the arrangement was carried to Parliament and only yesterday it was debated there.

Lord Grimthorpe, a banker member of the House of Lords, urged that Canada should have the preference in the order for shells and added that "one reason why more orders are not going to Canada is that the big shadow of an interloper stands between it and the government."

Summer Camp for Congregation is Plan of Plymouth Church

A summer camp, as a department of church activity, is somewhat of an innovation, but one Omaha church, the Plymouth Congregational, located at the corner of Emmet and Eighteenth streets, is trying out such a plan this summer with promising results.

An auxiliary organization known as "Plymouth Men," is fostering this enterprise and has leased the cottage known as "Green and Gables," on what was formerly the site of the old "Red and Gun" club.

The cottage and grounds will be the center of the church's outdoor activities through the summer. Located in the west part of the Carter Lake grove, where there is plenty of shade and grass, and with the lake front close by, will make the surroundings ideal for summer picnics and outings.

Courts for basket ball, volley ball, croquet, and links for old-fashioned "horseshoe pitching" are to be laid out. There also is a possibility that a base ball diamond and tennis courts may be added. These sports, in addition to swimming, fishing and boating in the lake, are expected to furnish plenty of wholesome amusement and entertainment for the Plymouth parishioners during the summer season.

The roomy cottage, with large screened porches and swings, and furnished ready for housekeeping, will be the services of any family in the parish that wishes to take a short outing at a very moderate cost, but with all the pleasures and advantages of a stay at the more pretentious and expensive resorts away from the city. Similar outings, as well as picnics for a day or an evening, are being planned for by Sunday school classes and other church organizations.

The camp and grounds were formally opened to the church people and their friends Saturday, June 26, when the annual church picnic was held there. The cottage will be in charge of W. S. Sheldon during the season.

Gaul is Fined for Selling Communion Goods to a Teuton

PARIS, July 3.—A French manufacturer of articles used for the communion service has been found guilty of violating the restrictive laws which prohibit commerce with subjects of nations at war with France. He was sentenced to two years imprisonment and a fine of 2,000 francs ($300).

The manufacturer received an order from a customer in Strasbourg through an intermediary at Zurich. When a French foreman employed in the shop found articles were being made for Germany, she arrested her former employer as the goods were being prepared for shipment.

TRIES TO SHIP LIQUOR INTO STATE AS BAGGAGE

LOS ANGELES, Cal., July 3.—Through the arrest today of Fred Lavin, United States officials said they had discovered a scheme to ship liquor into prohibition Arizona as baggage. Lavin was arrested for violating interstate commerce laws in not having properly labeled goods in transit.

The arrest of Lavin followed his attempt to procure a refund on a ticket to Tucson, Ariz. The scheme, according to federal agents was to buy tickets, check trunk loads of liquor as baggage and then turn in the tickets for refunds.

A number of members here and in Arizona who are said to have extensively employed this means of circumventing the strict Arizona prohibition law are under surveillance.

HALL DISSENTS AT RULING

Railway Board Member Holds Commission May Deny Right to Form Competing Phone Company.

ASSESSED VALUATIONS HIGHER. (From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, July 3.—(Special.)—Declaring that in his opinion the State Railway commission may refuse the People's Telephone company of Sterling permission to issue $2,500,000 in stock for a new exchange to compete with that of the Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph company, Railway Commissioner Thomas L. Hall has issued an opinion dissenting from the order of his colleagues, Clarke and Taylor, granting it.

They had held, over a month ago, that the commission could not deny a stock issue, taking the ground that the 1915 legislature, in refusing to pass the "Tom Hall bill," had failed to confer upon the commission the authority to forbid a competing public utility. At the same time Messrs. Clarke and Taylor stated that, in their opinion, a second exchange would be unwise and would result in both concerns losing money.

Mr. Hall declared that the commission approved the securities of a common carrier and it was one of the first duties to see that the stocks and bonds were protected. Instead of authorizing another plant at Sterling he says the commission should take action toward equitable rates existing by order of the commission, and in searching the statutes for "special legislative authority to deal with the commonest questions."

Expected Many Fees. With the coming of heat and the ice cream man Food Commissioner Harman expects the month of July to break all records and net the office $100,000 in fees for new and renewed permits to especially licensed dealers. He has already taken in $250.

Queen or Dairy Maid Ambition the Same

In the expectant mother's mind there is no limit to what the future has in store, and yet during the period of expectancy, many depend upon the physical comfort of the mother. One of the best aids is a remedy known as "Mother's Friend."

Applied over the muscles, it penetrates to the root work of nerves, relieves the pains incident to stretching of cords and ligaments, makes the placenta comfortable, restful nights, calm mind and pleasant anticipation. You use it with your own hands, apply it as needed, and at once feel a sense of relief.

Mother who have learned all this from experience tell of the blessed relief from nervous sickness, the absence of strain and the undoubted beautiful influence imparted to the coming baby.

One very important thing to remember about "Mother's Friend" is that it can not reach any other influence than to simply lubricate the parts, make them more free to naturally withstand the constantly increasing pressure. And as the muscles continue to expand, the nerves become accustomed to this new condition and adjust themselves without undue pain. "Mother's Friend" is entirely free of any drug influence whatsoever and may be used freely at all times.
